Co-Ops Pay High Advance In East

Twenty-five cooperative receiving points of the Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association opened in as many Eastern North Carolina towns Tuesday morning with a first cash advance to growers of sixty-five per cent. This is the highest advance ever made by any tobacco cooperative association in the country.

Meantime, directors of the association in the three states were jubilant over the report from the South Carolina belt which showed that during the brief time, exactly four days, in which under considerable pressure from loyal members of the association, books were opened to permit non-members to sign contracts, more than nine hundred growers had joined the pool.

The gradual increase in the price of the weed is admitted by every fair-minded economist to be due exclusively to the activity of the association. This is the fifth year in which there has been a stabilized market for tobacco. In no other period of agricultural history, where the cooperative movement was unknown, has the market remained healthy.

Twenty-First "Old Reliable."

The 21st annual exhibition of the Lynchburg Fair will be held this year on September 29th and 30th, and October 1st and 2d. The "old reliable" never disappoints its patrons with false promises and this year is spending over $20,000 in stimulating all that pertains to the farm and home and for the entertainment of those who attend.

It always has the best racing program in the state and claims to be second only in other features to the Richmond Fair. With that one exception it gives more for the money than any other fair in the state.

If you are going to a fair go where you can get your money's worth. Remember Lynchburg fair gives a varied program of amusement from noon until near midnight—not a dull moment. Entries for premiums can now be made. Send to F. A. Lovelock, Secretary for premium list.

Obituary

The death angel visited the home of Mrs. Anna Smith on August 29th at four o'clock and claimed her as its victim. She was 55 years of age and a member of Mt. Comfort Methodist Church from her childhood days. She was a devout Christian and was loved by all who knew her. She had been in declining health for the past three years but was taken to her bed March 15, 1925. We do not know how she suffered but we do know she bore it all with a smile, looking unto Jesus as the author and finisher of her faith. She leaves to mourn her death a host of friends and relatives, four sons and five daughters, J. J., J. T., R. F., E. W., E. C., N. G., and O. M. Smith, all of Appomattox, Mrs. E. Page, of Richmond, Va., Mrs. E. H. Fluiching, of Lynchburg. She will be greatly missed by all, but we know that our loss is Heaven's gain.

HER CHILDREN.

Come to LeGrand's Market

They Wanted "IN—"
WE Opened the Book,
OVER 900 "Signed Up"

DISAPPOINTED at the prices they received on the auction floors when the markets in South Carolina opened, hundreds of non-members of the Tobacco Growers Association applied to warehouse managers for the privilegs of signing a contract to deliver the 1925 and 1926 crops.

The board of directors, acting upon the desire of loyal members, closed the books on July 15th last. More than seven hundred members had voluntarily joined the pool in the six months before while the books were open.

Association officials, backed by the expressed sentiment of members in the South Carolina belt, declined to reopen the books at first. Ample publicity had been given to the closing date, and it was felt that it would not be quite fair to loyal members to permit a last minute sign-up.

Non-members appealed to members when they compared their returns with the Association's first advance in the South Carolina belt. Tenants began to deliver their tobacco under the contract with landlords. Some landlords actually tried to deliver tobacco under tenant's contract, and others "boot-legged" tobacco which had not been signed up into Association warehouses.

Officials of the Association recognized a critical situation. The attitude of the members softened. They expressed themselves as anxious to share the benefits of orderly marketing with their neighbors who had remained out of the pool.

To this appeal the officials answered by opening the books for four days. There was no publicity given to the opening. There was no intensive drive to get new contracts. The attitude of the Association was that it would make it possible for those who were wanting "in" to come IN.

OVER NINE HUNDRED growers in the South Carolina belt have joined the Association SINCE THE AUCTION FLOORS OPENED.

When the books were opened, the independent buyers briefly boosted prices. The boost didn't last. Prices dropped back where the Association advance made a favorable comparison.

STOMACH ILLS
Mississippian Was a Weak, Couldn't Eat Enough.
"I had a bad case of stomach trouble," says Mr. N. A. Smith, of Shaw, Miss. "I couldn't eat enough and was very weak. Everything I ate hurt me, formed gas, and I spit up my food.
"I would feel stupid or staggery. I didn't feel like doing any work. I saw what Black-Draught had done, and I began taking small doses. I certainly got relief. It did me lots of good.
"When I go to town, I look first to see if I can get out of Black-Draught we are, and then get more. We keep our home remedies and the main one of them is Black-Draught." Hundreds of thousands of homes, housekeepers keep Black-Draught as a remedy to relieve indigestion, biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, so harmful or other stomach ills. Black-Draught is absolutely safe to take for all members of the family.
You should keep Black-Draught always on hand, for use when needed.

DREADFUL PAINS
This Lady Suffered Severely, Took Cardui, and Got Well.
Mrs. George S. Hunter, of Columbus, Ga., writes:
"I suffered with dreadful pains in my sides during . . . My side hurt so bad it nearly killed me. I had to go to bed and stay sometimes two weeks at a time. I could not work and I just dragged around the house.
"I got very thin—I went from 126 pounds down to less than 100. My mother had long been a user of Cardui and she knew what a good medicine it was for this trouble, so she told me to get some and take it. I sent to the store after it and before I had taken the first bottle I began to improve.
"My sides hurt less and I began to improve in health. . . The Cardui acted as a fine tonic and I do not feel like the same person. I am so much better. I am well now.
"I have gained 10 pounds and am still gaining. My sides do not trouble me at all.
"I wish every suffering woman knew about Cardui."
